Seward s Mexican Scheme—An Account of the Milk in the Cocoanut

[From the Detroit Post Edited by Carl Schurz]

At last the long concealed schemes of Secretary Seward relative t Mexico begin to put on form and sub tance They have been skillfully kept hidden—the cunning Secretary has been plotting in the dark—yet his plan and his work have not been wholly unknown While he has been palatering with the honor and interests of the republic in order to secure his own private gain and personal ambition he has been sharply watched and nearly every winding of his devious track is known The history of his plotting is nearly as follows

As soon after the breaking out of our civil war as Napoleon began to act in his Mexican schemes the attention of Secretary Seward was called to that country For a time he confined himself to stating the position of the Administration and the people on that question only expressing the sentiments he was ordered to express in the Seward style Pretty soon it became evident that Maximilian s fate depended greatly upon the result of our civil war England and Spain withdrew from the invasion but France persevered It was shown however that Mexico was in a condition to fall a comparatively easy prey to the spoiler for a time at least and Seward's cupidity and natural love of intrigue began to be excited. Why not secure a slice of the spoil for the United States and pocket the profits himself?

A private company was formed of which Clarence Seward and Thurlow Weed were the brains, which private company by management secured a bargain for the sale to them of portions of the States of Sonora and Chihuahua bordering on the Gulf of California Then as our readers all remember, certain public organs began to sound the country with the idea of a foreign war which, it was claimed, would be the best way to unite North and South after the rebellion should cease. Seductive pictures were wrought of the veterans of Lee and Grant marching shoulder to shoulder against the French in Mexico and forgetting their own past quarrel in the common glory of a new enterprise For this service to Mexico of course she would gladly give us the territory bordering on the Gulf of California, after receiving which the Seward Weed Joint Stock Company would appear with their claim and pocket the millions

This plan did not work Under President Lincoln this wily Secretary found it necessary to be rather careful as to his conduct His master was liberal and allowed him to plot and plan as long as he did not attempt to commit the Government, because Lincoln, more than any other statesman in the country relied upon the good sense of the people and Seward s schemes being discussed in the public journals afforded a very good means of ascertaining public sentiment besides keeping public opinion awake to our foreign affairs

But unhappily Lincoln Seward s master was assassinated and succeeded by Andrew Johnson, Seward s servant At once the aspect of affairs was changed The schemer was now the power behind the throne, greater than the throne itself instead of the mere servant of the throne as he had been under Lincoln He at once began to improve the opportunities of the situation

First he committed Johnson to "my policy"—a policy which if it succeeded or if it failed, would in either event, need to be followed by some foreign complication to distract the attention and heal the wounds of the defeated victim If it succeeded, the South would gladly embrace an opportunity to seize upon some portion of Mexico and lend its vote in Congress to further Seward's plans, in return for his services in procuring their restoration, and because such a foreign complication would serve as a safety valve to distract the attention and carry off the anger of the radical North Moreover, numbers of rebel chiefs, at the close of the rebellion, had emigrated to Mexico and acquired property there They had been spoiled and abused by both the empire and Juarists, and revenge and recovery of their property would be sweet Besides, the new States annexed might be manipulated so as to add to the Southern strength The Monroe doctrine and the glory of conquest might be used to pacify the North, and ride over the danger of an explosion until the country became settled in its new guise In case of the defeat of "my policy the Mexican scheme would be necessary—as it is now being prepared for use—in covering up the President's mistake and giving to the last two years of his administration the glory of foreign acquisition to offset the failure of his first two years

Accordingly, Seward found Johnson ready to fall into his plans and, about a year since he went to the West Indies to hold an interview with Santa Anna Shortly after Santa Anna came to the United States and we have seen the development of that part of the plot, without knowing precisely what the bargain behind it was We are now told by the telegraph that "in view of the possibility of disturbances in the country and the anarchy arising from the numerous factions and cliques that have for so long cursed that land, our Government will be prepared to protect the recognized republican Government of Juarez and establish it on a firm and secure footing In consideration of these services the cession of Lower California and the northern portion of the States of Chihuahua and Sonora is made to the United States It is no part of the agreement yet made that the United States is to guarantee the claims of France against Mexico, though such a course may yet appear expedient and proper in which case the Government of this country will not hesitate to take the responsibility "

In plain language, we are to take the protectorate which France made a failure of, off her hands, in return for which Mexico is to give us the northern portion of the States of Sonora and Chihuahua, the very property for which Clarence Seward and Thurlow Weed have made their bargain, and giving us the east side of the Gulf of California and the country and coast southwest of Arizona, as well as Lower California Moreover we may yet have the French claims saddled upon us The moment such a bargain is consummated the Seward Stock Company will be enormously rich It is the most gigantic speculation of all history

But Seward may plant and Andrew Johnson may water but it is Congress alone who can give the increase And when the Senate of the United States saddled upon the people the additional expense and trouble of a Mexican protectorate, in order to enrich the Seward Weed speculators and get Andrew Johnson out of his bad scrape with "my policy," we think the people will conclude to dispense with the services of the Secretary President and Senate all together The scheme will not work And the President and Secretary had better be a little careful how far they commit the Government, if they value their official heads The people have had quite enough of plots against their interest and honor They are in no mood, to use an army phrase to "stand any more nonsense" Maximilian and France have made a bad job of the Mexican protectorate business and the people will not consent to have the failure saddled upon the United States with all its debts cost and trouble

The following is an extract from a letter to the San Francisco Flag written at Eugene City, Oregon

At the head of the valley the Willamette river receives its waters from three branches, and gives promise in their combined floods of the glorious stream that further down the valley winds along gracefully between banks of forest The valley at this point is not more than fifteen miles in width but every foot is rich in the juices that bring forth most abundant harvests Quiet farming communities have settled the comfortable places asking only enough of the soil to satisfy the demands of nature for the distance from market renders further development unprofitable Thousands of acres are left to the primitive growth of grasses though to make them laugh in the harvest needs only the tickling of a hoe A railroad to this point will send a thrill of energy to the pulses of all the people and quicken the demands upon the industry of the farmers who now but half compel the soil to do its duty

A SINGED HUNTSMAN —The Philadelphia Gazette says a man by the name of O Rourke lately undertook to go shooting In reaching for his powder flask he dropped it into a tub of water This by no means deterred him from enjoying the half holiday he had taken from the foundry of North Chase & North in which he is employed He poured the powder into a frying pan and dried it over the fire The result can be easily guessed at O Rourke was blown into the yard with his head so singed that he looked like a prize fighter Luckily for him he received no bodily injury His hair beard and eyebrows were taken off as closely as if by a razor

Operations of the Troops in Southern Oregon

The following is a letter dated Fort Klamath Oregon Nov 2d and published in the Jacksonville Reporter of the 24th ult

Being one of the number who lately went out on a scout after Snake Indians and supposing an authentic and detailed account of the doings of the expedition might be of some interest to the readers of the Reporter I have compiled the following from a daily journal kept by myself

On the morning of the 15th of October Lieut Oatman 1st Oregon Infantry with twenty two men and five Klamath Indians as scouts left this post for Camp Bidwell California for the purpose of receiving reinforcements, and replenishing our supply of provisions We arrived there on the 21st, and completing our business, on the 22d the column now consisting of Lieut Small 1st U S Cavalry and twenty seven men of Co A of the same regiment and Lieut Oatman's command of twenty seven including Indians—making in all a total of fifty six rank and file—started in the direction of Warner s Basin said to be a great stamping ground of the Snakes We camped in the valley the nights of the 23d and 24th On the morning of the 25th we started from Warner s Basin with the intention of taking a direct line by hunting a pass over the Sierras, to Lake Abbott which lays at their western base in the valley of Chewawcan, but after traveling about six miles we were brought to a sudden halt by a canyon with perpendicular bluffs about 30 feet in hight running directly across our intended route. This somewhat perplexed us, but after following its many windings for a distance of ten miles, an opportunity was offered us to cross it after crossing we commenced the ascent of the proud Sierras, and that night (25th) camped in a beautiful little valley about five miles from the summit At 3 o clock the next morning every man was aroused pursuant to Lieut Small's orders, and again commenced the ascent of the mountains. We crossed the summit at about 9 30 A M on the morning of the 26th and continued traveling until 10:30, when we arrived at the brink of the western slope of the Sierras, and looking beneath us our eyes were feasted by the sight of Lake Abbott and the lovely valley of the Chewawcan After a few minutes spent in admiration and awe at the sublimity and grandeur of the scenery, we commenced searching for a gap through which we might descend into the valley After a few minutes thus spent a place was discovered by our chief guide—"Blow," of the Klamath tribe

At 11 o'clock A M the command reached the valley and for a few minutes awaited the arrival of the pack train after which it was understood that we would make a start to scout the eastern shore of the lake Every man cinched his horse and inspected his fire arms and the command was given "Forward" which was obeyed with a will After proceeding about two and one half miles from where we first struck the valley our attention was drawn towards the mountain on our right where we beheld at the mouth of a very rocky canyon, several Indians skedaddling up towards the mountain We were ordered forward in double quick time to within about five hundred yards of their position Unable to proceed further on our horses, on account of huge boulders we dismounted leaving some to take charge of the horses Lieut Small with the principal part of the command advanced up a ridge on their right keeping up a continuous firing The left being left unguarded except by three or four men, Lieut Oatman suggested the propriety of detailing some men for that side, and, in conjunction, advance up both ridges right and left, with some to guard the mouth, and pour in upon the red skins an enfilading fire that would soon cause many of them to bite the dust In this manner, at precisely 12 o'clock M., the engagement commenced, and for about an hour and a half the scene was sublimely grand to hear the yells of the men, white and red, the barking of their half wolf dogs, the weeping wailing and shrieking of their women and children, the booming of one hundred guns, fired a la misuette, reverberating among the mountain fastnesses was indeed grand Thus the ball rolled until 3 o'clock P M , when there was not an Indian to be seen, except fourteen killed and, I hesitate not to say, twice that number were wounded, for we saw them packing them off as they fell

Too much credit cannot be given Lieuts Small and Oatman for the vigilance and energy displayed upon this occasion, and to give honor to whom honor is due Captain Sprague must not be forgotten as he originated the whole affair, and applied for permission to execute it which was granted, with what result I have stated.

WASHINGTON ITEMS —A despatch dated at Washington, October 25th, says

The Democratic Committee of New Hampshire, of which Edmund Burke is the head, has succeeded in obtaining changes in eight Post Offices during the present week the principal offices being Claremont and Newport Manchester still remains undecided This Committee does not possess the Presidential confidence His Excellency rather following the advice of three ex-Congressmen two of Whig and one of Democratic antecedents

Just after President Johnson became President, and it was thought that General Butler would be assigned to command at Richmond (Va.), a member of the Virginia Legislature offered a resolution instructing the Governor of the State to issue a proclamation to the people to bury their silver, etc The said member has just turned out a defaulter to the sum of $50 000

There are a number of Philadelphia Democratic politicians here who were candidates for the Legislature and other offices at the recent election, but were defeated at the polls They are now here to get from the President what they failed to receive from the people The rebel General Dick Taylor was a visitor at the White House to-day J S Black of Pennsylvania also had an audience with the President this morning General Schofield left this morning for his command at Richmond (Va)

The President has ordered the pardon of Johnson Winn, convicted in November, 1864, before the United States District for the Northern District of New York, of passing counterfeit United States fractional currency and sentenced to the Penitentiary for four years and six months

James Lanman, in a dispatch dated United States flagship Tacony, Hampton Roads (Va.), 25th reports that the boats of the Tacony and ... rescued from drowning four men constituting the crew of the sloop Farewell, of Hampton (Va), which had capsized near the Tacony, and towed the sloop to the beach

The United States Medical Museum, now in Corcoran building, is being removed to Ford's Theater, where the specimens are to be arranged

THE GREAT DEBATE BETWEEN JOHN MORRISSEY AND YANKEE SULLIVAN —Under this head the New York Herald of October 28th says

In view of the important position held by John Morrissey at this crisis in our public affairs and the great influence which he wields as the right hand man of John Hoffman and the banker (faro) and ring master of the Tammany rump, the people are becoming interested in his antecedents as a public man In order therefore to gratify this laudable curiosity, we reproduce in our columns to day our original graphic report of the great debate at Boston Four Corners on the 12th of October 1853, between Morrissey and Yankee Sullivan in the ring and on the manly art of self defense Mark the contrast between the short sharp and decisive knock down arguments exchanged between Morrissey and Sullivan in this exciting debate and the comparatively tame and tedious constitutional chop logic of the long electioneering discussion of 1858, between the late Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A Douglas Boston Four Corners will speak of John Morrissey and his antecedents in Democracy and as to his wind and muscle in the support of the Democratic platform of the Tammany rump Going back to the first principle of the ring what a fight as their champion is John Hoffman alongside of John Morrissey

A SOUTHERN REVIEW OF GOVERNOR HUMPHREYS S MESSAGE —The Raleigh (N C) Standard in commenting upon the message of Gov Humphreys to the Mississippi Legislature says

Gov Humphreys is an ex Confederate General President Johnson pardoned him into the the Gubernatorial chair Before he could get his pardon he was obliged to say that he regretted what he had done to destroy the Government He now says he has no contrition for what he did. He boasts of his treason The President should remove him instantly from his place "

BOMB SHELLS —A waggish radical of our acquaintance said last spring, by way of a joke on the Democracy, that on the morning after the news reached Boise City that the act establishing no negro suffrage in the Territories had passed the House of Representatives he went down to get shaved before sunrise and found a prominent Democrat on either side of Bob, the barber trying to persuade him to join the Democratic party and vote the Copperhead ticket, and ended by inviting Bob out to take a drink , and that three others repeated the invitation before he had time to finish his shave each one making particular inquiry concerning the health of Mrs Bob and the little Bobs If we consider this an illustration of the practice and tactics of the Democratic party, it becomes a truthful statement The practice of that party to oppose with all its might every measure of reform until its success becomes apparent and then to adopt it as their own, has become so common as to attract no notice The Democratic party opposed the restriction of slavery from the Territories until that became the policy of the Government when it with cool assurance claimed the honor of inaugurating the policy Its opposed the war until success of the national arms was the result of every battle, and the Confederacy became a lost cause when with its wonted cheek it claimed in the face of its record to the contrary, to have supported the war from the beginning It course towards the Constitutional Amendment has been in conformity with its record upon other measures A few months ago every effort of the entire party was directed to the object of defeating the measure in the fall elections They worked so desperately as to bankrupt the party financially all in support of principle, of course, but within twenty-four hours after the people's majorities began to be recorded against them the leading Democratic organs announced the amendment to be a part of the Democratic creed, and the country was treated to the grand display of Democratic talent both for and against the amendment in issue of Democratic organs of the same week. These different flops of the party in high official position are not inaptly termed bomb-shells thrown among the ranks The telegraph now informs us that the Chicago Times has thrown another shell into its party by proclaiming negro suffrage to be a plank in the Democratic platform. Three weeks ago the rank and file of the party considered a man crazy who was reckless enough to predict that any Democrat would ever favor negro suffrage. To-day they are in slight confusion upon the subject but by next week nine-tenths of the party will swear they always were in favor of negro suffrage, and in the next campaign stump orators will declare it to have been a favorite measure of Johnson's administration. This last "shell" will create a little sensation for a few days, but will soon be over The party is getting used to shells of that kind It can in thirty days from now endorse negro suffrage with as much "devotion to principle" and to the "white man's government" as ever it displayed in opposition to the amendment of the draft. The Idaho World will not be able to make the change this week, as the news will not reach there until the paper is made up Next week it will be able to give us "constitutional" reasons in favor of negro suffrage —Boise Statesman

THE NEW YORK NEWS —It is understood that Ben Wood is once more proprietor of the New York Daily News, since Cauldwell & Whitney gave it up The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says, in the same connection, that Charles A. Dana has made a good offer to Wood for the News establishment If the transfer is effected he will make the News a radical paper

MONDAY MORNING DEC 3 1866

A New Doctrine of Forgiveness

The country is to be blessed at once by the appearance of new gospel of peace Signs of its advent are numerous and unmistakably clear In the South there is to be full indemnity for the past Bygones are to be bygones The amnesty is to be complete Nothing is to be allowed to mar the work of reconciliation President Davis who to the unutterable disgrace of the nation is still confined in a Yankee bastile is no longer to be reproached for starving the thirty thousand hireling invaders who fell into his hands during the progress of the unholy war The high-toned and Christian warrior, General Beauregard, is no more to be censured for having advised the putting to death of all the Northern Vandals who should be captured on the sacred soil. The humane and chivalrous General Forrest is hereafter to be praised instead of blamed for his heroic conduct at Fort Pillow For all the offenses im properly so called of our Southern brethren, there is to be an act of oblivion Charity demands it Christian duty requires it Humanity inculcates it Men must forgive Beautiful is mercy Divine is forgiveness But reason and mercy alike forbid that such men as Stanton and Holt, Butler and Banks, should be pardoned The new gospel of peace is not for them No act of indemnity must include them or others who are so odious to our Southern brethren One of the conditions on which the noble men of the South are to be forgiven is that they must be permitted to revenge themselves in the most signal manner upon those who have so foully outraged them Some examples must be made Any amnesty that would include Ben Butler and Thad Stevens would be a reproach to humanity These men and all others like them must be delivered up to the vengeance of the Southern people It were sheer impiety to suppose that they can be forgiven The quality of mercy must never be so far overstrained It would be too much to beg of our Southern brethren who are themselves applying for pardon, to forgive these, their old enemies Justice demands a general amnesty for the South, but justice must not be outraged by allowing immunity and pardon to this large class of Northern men Before the amnesty is published our chivalrous Southern friends should be allowed time to prepare lists of the Northern traitors who ought to be held for punishment Of course our friends would be merciful The execution of a few hundred of their enemies would probably satisfy their demands, as well as the demands of public justice Peace would thus prevail, and brotherly love would resume its sway

Already there are indications that our difficulties are to be settled in this equitable way All proceedings against the Confederate officials for depriving the citizen of his liberty, for seizing his property, and for forcing him into the army are very properly forbidden President Davis, his Cabinet and his Generals are not to be troubled by vexatious suits of this kind Such acts of injustice are not to be tolerated Not only must the Confederates be protected, but they must be honored with high official positions in token of their recent distinguished services It is very gratifying that President Johnson rightly understands this matter Nothing more clearly shows his great magnanimity than his conduct in pardoning the noble Christian gentlemen of the South,—thus relieving them from the fear of prosecution and enabling them to hold office But there is a large class of Northern men who are not to be afforded this sort of protection Suits are every day multiplying against General Palmer, General Butler, Secretary Stanton and others, for their wrongful treatment of Confederates during the war. Our Southern friends seem likely to get redress at last. They are in a fair way to be revenged on their most hated enemies. Proceedings must go on against Palmer and Butler, but must not be permitted against Forrest and Semmes There must be exceptions to the act of indemnity Forgiveness is not for all. The new gospel of peace grants mercy only to the noble Southerner, who, immediately after he is forgiven, shows, by demanding the blood of his enemies, that lessons of mercy are not lost upon him.

EDIFYING —A Georgian named A H H Dawson, lately delivered a speech at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, in the course of which he took occasion to lecture the North on its duty to the Constitution He pronounced the Constitution "a charter not only of civil liberty but of humanity's holiest hopes, and the day it is stricken down is bound to be followed by another long, dark and dreary night of desolation and despair. Nevertheless you, the people, do not seem to feel or fear the peril of this hour Turn your eye to the political horizon and you'll find piling in terrific grandeur there the angry clouds whose sullen mutterings your political patrols have been echoing in your ears for months, lo these many ! Yet even in the face of such facts, when you look abroad among the people you find the same listless energy that lulled the popular mind into a drowsy dream of security in '60, paralyzing its perceptive powers to-day." This individual who is so solicitous about the Constitution, and who is so frightfully distressed to witness the apathy of the people of the North for the instrument which they gave five hundred thousand lives and five millions of money to preserve, in the course of the same speech declares with defiant insolence "There was not in my bosom a shadow of sympathy that did not go square into the fight on the side of the South " His anxiety for the Constitution now must be great indeed Nothing could be more commendable or edifying

Alexander H Stephens complains that he is not admitted as a Senator in Congress He has little reason In 1864 he was re-elected Vice President of the rebel Confederacy for the term of six years This term will not expire until 1870 and nobody has ever heard that Stephens has resigned How many offices does he want to hold at once? His colleague, H V Johnson who is also knocking at the door of the Senate Chamber, is in a similar fix The term for which he was elected to the rebel Senate will not expire till 1868 Let both these worthies finish the terms of service for which they are engaged before they take new ones

Army Intelligence

News has reached headquarters of the Department, that an attack by the Indians upon Fort Klamath is feared The Indians intend to capture if possible the winter supplies of that post The inhabitants have petitioned the General to allow Captain Sprague's company of Oregon Volunteers to remain there for the winter to operate in connection with Capt. Kelly's company U S Cavalry against the Indians In response to the petition a telegram was sent to the Chief Commissary of the Division, inquiring whether he can supply provisions for two companies during the winter If the reply is favorable, it is probable that the General will retain Capt Sprague's Company in service until spring otherwise that company will be mustered out by Capt Kelly either at Jacksonville or Fort Klamath, at the option of that gentleman

General Steele and a portion of his staff returned from the Dalles day before yesterday where he reviewed the company of Indian scouts lately mustered into the service He made a speech to them, which we have heard highly spoken of He reminded them, that they had been placed upon the same footing with white soldiers, that they were about to fight their old hereditary enemies that he entrusted to their keeping the battle flag which they should never surrender while living, and that he expected them to do their full duty One of the chiefs made a suitable response

"This nation is ruled by two drunkards and a lewd woman. GOOD GRUB AND PLENTY OF IT!

AT THE

Bennett House,

SALEM OREGON

L. JAY S. TURNEY,

HAVING LEASED THE ABOVE NAMED HOTEL is prepared to accommodate the travelling public and ONE HUNDRED REGULAR BOARDERS in as good style as any House on the Coast, He has determined to make the Bennett' as good as the best and better than any public house in Salem He will soon complete some important improvements, which will add greatly to its appearance and comfort, and intends to merit and hopes to receive his share of patronage

He has secured the services of "Charley" (known to be the best cook in Salem and one of the best in the whole country) and other competent persons to manage the culinary department and is resolved to set as good a table as can be found anywhere—not in clap-trap pomp and show flummery and fine furniture but in an abundant supply of the very best the market affords.

His Bar room will be kept warmed and lighted and well supplied with newspapers periodicals and other suitable reading matter and kept in a manner which will make it an agreeable resort

In short he intends making an effort to please ALL who stop at the BENNETT HOUSE And he most respectfully requests his friends everywhere to give the old and well known stand at least one more trial before concluding they can do as well elsewhere and promises if they are not well treated and properly cared for and at reasonable figures it will not be the fault of the public's most obedient and most humble servant

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS —The City Council [illegible] extra session on Saturday evening, [illegible]

All present were Messrs Carter Fechheimer [illegible] O'Connor [illegible] and Zeller

ADDRESS OF THE MAYOR—MR. H LAKE

The Mayor elect—T J H Innes— [illegible] as presiding officer made the following remarks

Gentlemen of the Common Council Permit me to tender you my sincere thanks for the honor in electing me to the Mayoralty of this city

"Gentlemen—I attribute this high honor more to your partiality than to my merits or qualification for the position. And upon entering upon the discharge of the duties of the office, it is with many misgivings and great diffidence, and more particularly so, when I remember that my want of ability must become more apparent when compared with that of my able and efficient predecessor, who has for so long a time past discharged the duties of Mayor with such distinguished credit to himself and satisfaction to the people

"I am fearful, very fearful that from my want of skill ability and experience, I may fall into many grievous errors. This, however I will use my best endeavors to avoid relying, gentlemen, solely upon you for support and guarding against all mistakes and rendering me that assistance so essential, not only to secure to every member of the Board all his rights and privileges, but to secure harmony order and dispatch of business. And here let me express the opinion that this Board, in its deliberations are actuated by the single motive to promote the general good of its constituents. Therefore, I deem its decisions entitled to the highest consideration and respect and should not for any trivial reason, sectarian or party purposes be interfered with by any power or authority that may be vested in its presiding officer

"Gentlemen—Relying upon you for support and assistance I earnestly trust you may not have great cause to regret the selection you have made I can only again thank you for the honor you have conferred

"LINE DOWN"—Yesterday the telegraph line was down and we got no dispatch, as is generally the case on [illegible]. We can distinctly remember three times since last March, when there was no dispatch sent here for publication on Sunday morning and a very fair dispatch for Monday Our recollection is equally distinct that with those three exceptions there has been almost always [illegible] for the Sunday paper and none for Monday [illegible] so regularly as to occasion remark and to induce the suspicion that there may be design in it At all events, it is remarkable that the line should be so [illegible] down on Sunday. There is another phase of this "line down" matter about which we have long felt disposed to growl. That is when the line has been down for several days, and finally in the course of events gets [illegible] again, the operator below sends as much of the [illegible] matter as seems to be convenient, frequently omitting important items of Eastern news That we have to wait twelve days—as we do during the winter months for the Sacramento and San Francisco papers to bring up these items, the operator's omission [illegible] a bore Meantime, while the line [illegible] we get a mass of stuff both from the Eastern States and San Francisco that is just about as interesting to the public as to be informed that the Imperial Emperor of China has purch[illegible] a pair of new and highly polished [illegible] for his Majesty's table, his old ones having been stolen by his Most High Serenity's washerwoman. What does the public, here, care to know that a man [illegible], with auburn hair and a squint to one eye, lost [illegible] his purse containing five bits and a lock of hair formerly worn by his angel wife? Who wants to know that John Doe, whom nobody ever knew or cared a fig about, was yesterday up in S F Police Court charged with being in possession of a lady's smelling bottle, and quite unable to prove by three witnesses where he got it? Who wants to be see sawed one day with "Gould & Curry is $1 lower" next day "Gould and Curry $1 higher, when nobody can get the least idea from [illegible] how near "$1 lower" came to going through the bottom of Gould & Curry or how near "$1 higher" came to doubling the capital of the holders of Gould & Curry shares? Stuff, the veriest stuff! We are [illegible]. Our readers are tired of it And yet for telegraphic stuff, or as Edmund Sparkler would say, "Bigodd [illegible]" we have to pay over $5 000 per year, coin—and "line down" an average of—well, say a little too of [illegible] our patience

THE [illegible] LABOR QUESTION —A correspondent at Oregon City sends us the following in relation to the discussion of the Chinese labor question at that place "To show that the discussion of this subject last evening caused no small excitement in this quiet community it is only necessary to state that long before the hour fixed for debate had arrived, the room was crowded to excess by men of all trades and grades After the usual preliminary [illegible] was gone through the President of the [illegible] Mr T Charman, requested Dr Barclay to act as Chairman of debate for the evening The question Is Chinese labor beneficial to Oregon?" was introduced by the leaders, and ably argued by a number of gentlemen [illegible] The chairman in summing up stated that those on the affirmative side had made merely imaginary and flighty speeches on cheap labor throughout Europe and old countries, and completely failed in all their arguments to show that Chinese labor would be advantageous to this State, that those on the negative side spoke with [illegible] and decision, clear in their arguments proved [illegible] that cheap labor is not always beneficial to a nation, and that Chinamen and China labor would be a curse to society and no benefit to the State of Oregon The [illegible] was received amid applause and every person seemed much pleased with the exercises of the evening."

CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK JUDGE —The proceedings of Saturday were as follows

In the case of Bybee and Young vs Thomas Burbank, submitted Friday the jury failed to agree and were discharged.

State of Oregon vs M. Keith & A S Crable, indicted for permitting a gambling device to be set up on their premises—Jury trial—verdict of not guilty and defendants discharged.

RECORDER S COURT—H [illegible] JUDGE —On Saturday Miss Julia Bird a young lady of gay life [illegible] was [illegible] before the Recorder on a charge of disturbing the public peace by disorderly conduct on the street. She was fined $5 and costs and in default of [illegible] went to [illegible]

Miss Mary Stull on a charge of using obscene language [illegible] the street was fined $[illegible] and costs which she paid and went her way

Miss Mary Forrest for disorderly conduct on the street was fined $5 and costs

Those three [illegible] are what are known as nymphs du pave and were engaged together in a lively controversy when the officer charged were committed.

Patrick Do[illegible] for getting [illegible] was fined $5 and costs

FLOODED —Saturday evening the rains descended and the floods came—down Front south First low W ash[illegible] down everywhere where there was inclination enough for the waters to run and where there was not the waters stood in [illegible] all the way from ponds to lakes The [illegible] was [illegible] to a charm every one of them hold water This result was partly assisted by the piles of garbage that everywhere [illegible] the streets and which were [illegible] little mud [illegible] The crossings were delightful—for those who are fond of wading Ladies especially enjoyed the sport Wet [illegible] and draggled skirts were as charming and as comfortable Sunday one day [illegible] speaks well of the surface drains

SKETCHES OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.—Mr. E. M Richardson an English artist who has spent the last two or three years in the British Columbia mines called on us Saturday and showed us a pretty full portfolio of sketches made by himself of noted places in that Northern country some of which were very beautiful. Mr R thinks of visiting the Snake river country and the Sandwich Islands for the purpose of procuring other sketches and then to return home and paint larger copies for the English picture-buyers.

A Copperhead on A. Johnson.

Zach Montgomery's paper, the Occidental and Vanguard, a sturdy Democratic sheet published at San Francisco is immensely disgusted with Johnson. It thinks he has no friends anywhere except those whose friendship he conciliates by benefices and gratuities. It proceeds to cipher out this problem in the following edifying manner:

> If the President in the process of swinging round his celebrated circle, continues as he had done to multiply his foes by the million, and at the same time refuses to recognize as friends, any of his old enemies, how long will it be until he will find himself without a sufficient number of friends to give him a decent burial?
>
> Let us glance for a moment at the figures and see how his old enemies and new ones will foot up when added together. First we have at the North—counted as old enemies—all, who voted the Democratic ticket in 1864, numbering 1,811,754. Then we have—taking out say 20,000 Radicals—the entire voting population of the South, numbering about 700,000, making in all, old enemies to the number of 2,511,754. The number of voters who supported Lincoln and Johnson in 1864, was 2,223,035. Of these—as is perfectly apparent from the recent elections—at least nine-tenths are to-day the bitter and uncompromising foes of President Johnson and his reconstruction policy. Now nine-tenths of 2,223,035 added to 20,000 Southern Radicals give 2,020,727 as the number of Johnson's newly made enemies. Adding these new enemies to the 2,511,754 old enemies, and you have an aggregate of enemies old and new, of 4,531,482.
>
> Now against these four millions and a half of enemies, let it be conceded that he has for his present friends one-tenth part of those who supported him in 1864. This would give as the full strength of the loyal Johnson party—provided both old and new enemies are to be excluded from the count—the enormous figure of 223,303; just about enough to fill all the Federal offices.
> Now if it is true that we have in the whole United States, only about two hundred and twenty-three thousand truly loyal patriotic Johnson men against some four and a half millions of Rebel Radical and Copperhead traitors, what in the name of all the Gods at once is going to become of the patriots, should they get involved in a war with all these traitors at the same time?

Mr. Johnson's Queries.—"Our beloved President," Mr. Andrew Johnson, if he have no other point of personal respectability about him, has at least the advantage of closely resembling a very respectable character—we refer to the old lady known to the readers of Dickens' "Little Dorritt" as "Mr. F.'s aunt." Like that excellent dame, he constantly expresses in his speeches a desire to see some mysterious and abstract individual, whom he proposes—like her—to assault, abuse and utterly overwhelm. "Just let him come out and show himself—let me see his face!" cries F.'s aunt; and "Anti-Congress Johnson" beseeches in a similar manner, to be placed vis-a-vis to some ideal incarnation of the Republican party, whom he suspects, with a delirium-tremens sort of dread, to be lurking about behind the attendant crowd. And it is worthy of remark, in this connection, that all tyrants, from Nero down to Johnson, no sooner reach the morbid-nervous state of despotism, in which egotism becomes a disease, and cruelty a mania, than they begin at once to wish to see all their political opponents concentrated in one body and brought before them. Nero wished that all Rome had but one neck that he might sever it, while Mr. Johnson frantically cries out to "let me see him," that he may have the pleasure of ferociously attacking all Republicans in a unit.—Forney's Press.

Significant.—There are six exchanges at this office which never utter a word of commendation of the officers and men who fought in the Union ranks, and rendered efficient service to the Government in prominent civil positions during the war. The names of many of the truest and bravest are maligned without stint, and vile epithets are heaped upon them, and there seems to be no bounds to the bitterness that is cherished toward them. And yet these same papers never give expression to one disparaging word in regard to the prominent leaders and officers of the rebels. Davis, Lee, Beauregard, Johnston, Taylor, Price, and the pirate Semmes, are only remembered as distinguished gentlemen. Their names are uniformly mentioned in terms of respect and sympathy. Observing people notice these things, and thinking persons sometimes ask why it is.

Is patriotism odious? and is it a crime to fight for our country? And is it honorable for men, who have sworn a score of times to support the constitution of the United States, to plot and fight for its overthrow? Are rebels to be esteemed more highly than patriots?

These are, probably, very impertinent questions, and some one without brains, but amply endowed with putty in his cranium, may say that we are "meddling with politics."—P. C. Advocate.

Our Increase of Population.—Mr. Elkanah Watson, the friend of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Edmund Burke, died in 1868 in his eighty-fifth year. In the year 1815 he made some calculations in regard to the future population of the United States, which have so far been verified in an astonishing manner. In 1810 the population of the United States was 7,239,303. Mr. Watson said:

> The increase from 1790, the first census under the Constitution, has been about one-third at each census; admitting that it will continue to increase in the same ratio, the result will be as follows:

Year.	Estimated Population.	Actual Results.
1820	9,625,734	9,638,151
1830	12,833,645	12,866,070
1840	17,116,526	17,062,566
1850	23,185,368	23,191,876
1860	31,752,824	31,445,080
1870	42,328,432
1880	56,450,241
1890	77,266,989
1900	100,355,985

The actual figures of the three censuses following his estimate were written by Mr. Watson himself, the other two are supplied from the census reports. The closeness of the estimates to the actual results is so striking as to justify belief in the correctness of the succeeding figures.

A. T. Stewart.—The Boston Journal's New York correspondent says of the great merchant prince:

> He seldom looks at a subscription paper. With him begging is at a discount. He has little sympathy with vagrancy. Men and women who seek his presence seldom gain much by an interview, if money is the object. Indeed, it is very difficult to gain access to him anyway. He is more intensely devoted to his business, and works more hours probably than any merchant in New York. He controls his own affairs with despotic sway. His partners have no control over the business, but are interested merely in his own profits. He buys and sells as he pleases, without consulting any one. But, on great occasions, the donations of Mr. Stewart are princely. He proposes now to devote millions to build houses for the poor. If the city refuses to give the site, he will still carry out his plan.

Beecher.—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, of Brooklyn, has been writing a letter in review of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in which occurs the following paragraph:

> The trouble with my eloquent brother just now is that his theology is tainting his politics. He never had enough of the punitive element in his preaching. His whole theology has mainly consisted in the single word love; and has always lacked the Calvinistic backbone of his grand old father. The result is, that when he now preaches "magnanimity to the South" he ignores punishment of the crime of treason, as well as justice to the negro, and protection to the white loyalists. The Cleveland letter would have come better from a Universalist than from a son of staunch old Lyman Beecher.

More Counterfeiters Arrested.—The stage last night from Idaho brought the news that six other persons had been arrested upon evidence given by Murphy, who, it it said, proposes to disclose the whole bogus plot, names of parties and all concerned. This bogus business promises to make some rich developments before it is finished. The Times says that business men of Idaho City "have handled it (bogus dust) for the purpose of preying upon their fellow-men." It has been the current report here for over a week that Murphy sold some of the dust to business men in Idaho City for eight dollars per ounce. Does anybody suppose they ever paid it out for less than sixteen dollars per ounce? Not much.—Idaho Statesman.

Taxation.—A grumbler explains the present system of raising revenue as follows: "Now, you see, in the first place, they git the amount of a fellers business. That is taxed. Then they find out all about his profits, and on that they lay their tax. Then they manage to get some tax on what he owes. Next comes what they call income, and that is taxed. Then if anything is left, the minister calls around and gits it to sustain the church and convert the heathen."

Frank Ray was accidentally shot and killed, a few days since at Skagit Head. Ray was intoxicated and got hold of a loaded gun and was handling it in a dangerous manner, when some person attempted to take it from him. In the scuffle, the gun went off, entering Ray's chin and coming out at the top of his head.—Seattle Weekly.

Indian Scouts.—On Tuesday last (Nov. 27th,) the scouts stationed at Fort Dalles turned out in full force. It was previously known that General Steele and staff would be present, which fact brought a goodly number of citizens out to witness the exercises. About 2 o'clock P. M., the Indians made their appearance painted and dressed out in their best, and mounted on good horses, furnished them by the government. Gen. Steele and staff appeared in uniform. The exercises commenced by the Indians riding around the post three times on a "keen jump," and displaying their horsemanship by throwing themselves from one side to the other on their horses as they passed around the parade ground. At the conclusion of the riding the Indians were drawn up in line, when General Steele addressed them in one of the neatest and most appropriate speeches that we have ever listened to, and we regret that we were unable to report it verbatim. The General then presented two guidons and explained to them through Dr. McKay, the significance of the flag; he desired them to part with their lives before they should surrender it to their enemy; he expected them to give a good account of themselves, and by spring he hoped they would accomplish the extermination of their enemy—the Snakes. The Indians signified their assent to the remarks made by the General by an exclamation of Ay! along the whole line. The presentation being over, the Indians put away their horses and prepared for a dance on the parade ground. After dancing about half an hour they formed in front of the General, and several of the chiefs addressed him through the interpreter. They expressed themselves pleased with the remarks of General Steele; and made no promises other than that they would do all they could to make their expedition a success. One chief remarked that they knew where to hunt the deer and bear, but the Snake Indians were wild beings that they could not tell where to find. At the conclusion of the speeches the Indians and visitors dispersed. From the remarks made by General Steele and the interest he manifests in the expedition, it is evident that he is determined the Snakes shall feel the power of the Government the coming winter. We are satisfied, at last, the right man is in the right place in this Military Department, one who does not propose to make treaties only with powder and lead; and the people of this section fully appreciate the services of Gen. Steele and his subordinates in the cause of our suffering fellow-citizens.—Mountaineer.

The Germans are Gone.—The New Orleans Commercial thus laments the wicked perversity of the South:

> The large crowd of German immigrants that landed in this city a day or two since are gone. They captured the steamer Henry Ames, and left for St. Louis Tuesday night. This is shameful, for half an effort might have detained these people here, and their detention would have brought hundreds of others. Are we blind? Have the keen senses of the American people forsaken their lodgment in this community, that we do not or will not make an effort to catch the golden opportunities that glide so invitingly past us and within our reach? The Northwest is fattening upon our wicked perversity. With every advantage in our favor, the uninviting fields of Wisconsin, that are covered with snow half the year and baked into a crust or flooded into a muddle the other half, are taking from us the thousands of emigrants that crowd to these shores from the distracted kingdoms of Europe. Why should we not have gathered this harvest of laborers? Why should not our fertile lands be flocked with the blooming gardens and happy homes which these sinewy men might plant in our war-ridden valleys.
> We are not up to this thing. We do not understand the modus operandi, or if we do we are too feeble of enterprise, or too cowardly of our means to apply it. All Louisiana and Mississippi should be cut up into small farms and offered to these people. They should be given time to pay for them in. Let each landholder cut his unwieldy farm up into sections of forty acres, and sell or give away each alternate section. The poorest man might then secure a home, and the richest man would find his profit in the increased value of the remaining section. This is what these Germans come for. They want homes. They have lived dependent long enough, and they want their own vine and fig tree. The Northwest supplies this want in the way we have pointed out; and we, who have so many fertile acres, fallow and unprofitable, are not quick enough to compass this scheme of social greatness. Our subdued fortunes have taught us no lesson. We are the Bourbons of the Republic. The departure of the Germans on the Henry Ames was a social crime. They should have been bribed to stop.

Afraid of the Truth.—The Washington Chronicle has a hard hit in connection with the President's conduct in the New Orleans massacre affair. It says:

> The silence of the President's rebel organ here with regard to the report of the Military Commission on the New Orleans massacre is significant. That journal has neither published the report nor given its readers to understand that such a document was in existence. It no doubt fears to publish it for the same reason that Andrew Johnson held it back for nearly a month, and only brought it to light at the urgent and persistent demand of the people. Such testimony as that report contains reveals the legitimate effects of President Johnson's policy, and is, of course, fatal to its success. Its effects upon the people will be similar to that of the "humble individual's" ill-tempered speeches delivered on his recent political stumping tour, some of which the Intelligencer refused to publish. The plan of the copperjohnsons is to stifle the truth, or give it to the people in a garbled form, as was the case with General Sheridan's dispatches. This example being set by the President himself is zealously followed by all his "satraps and dependents." We defy the Intelligencer to publish the report entire.

A Sensational Despatch from New Orleans.—A despatch dated New Orleans, October 27th says: It is reported on good authority that Governor Wells and Judge Howell, who claims to be President of the Constitutional Convention of 1864, are about re-convening that body, and have elections to fill vacancies. The Governor says he has assurance from leading members of Congress that he will be sustained by force if necessary. Gentlemen just returned from a tour in the river Parishes report the crop far smaller than heretofore stated. They say five-eighths of the crop is already in market from the river region, and the remainder will soon be here.

The Freedmen's Bureau official report says, in Concordia Parish 42,000 acres were planted in cotton and only 7,000 bales are made. There will be great suffering among agriculturists.

There are a few of the Narragansett Indians remaining in Rhode Island. In reply to the proposal to enfranchise them, they declare that they have no wish for citizenship. Most of their reasons are fanciful, but one is not without force:

> "As for your right of voting, what is it worth? We do not want it now. We desired to vote for the great and good Lincoln. Had we been gratified, we should have also voted for Andrew Johnson. The joy of having voted for the one would have been darkened by the sorrow that we had voted for the other."

Hundreds of thousands of white voters will appreciate this reasoning.—New York Tribune.

A Fair Proposition.—A good story is told of a western farmer, a candidate for Congress, whose neighbor was in the habit of stealing his hogs, and was finally caught in the act. Anxious to secure the man's vote and his own pork at the same time, the farmer went to him and said; "Now, I make this proposition, if you will let my hogs alone in the future, I will not only say nothing of the past, but when I kill in the Fall I'll put into your cellar five barrels of as good pork as I make." The fellow reflected a moment, and replied, "Well, Squire, that's a fair proposition, any how; and seeing as it's you, I'll do it. But I vow I believe I shall lose pork by the operation."

Another Insult to the "Caucasian Race."—What admirer of a "white man's government" is there whose blood is of that watery and ignoble quality that it does not boil, incontinently upon reading the following announcement:

> Morgan Smith, a colored man from the United States, has made his debut in London, and it is said that in the character of "Othello" he gave from first to last the most chaste and finished reading and was called before the curtain by the most deafening and long continued applause.

A cute and pretty young "widder" has just taken the conceit out of a gay young student of Michigan by exhibiting to said student after her "surrender" and marriage, a beautiful daughter and three sprigs of young America, named respectively Augustus, James and Reuben. If he's a good "papa" he can make these "boys" useful.

The Round Table says: "It is the first time that the Presidential chair has been filled by a besotted sans culotte, the object of universal derision and source of constant mortification—a man of such offensive person and speech as should exclude him from the society of gentlemen, and consign him to the low haunts frequented by his kind."

Paper Collar and Bosom Patent.—A Providence man named Richards has lately invented a combined paper collar and bosom, and sold the patent for $300,000.

Moses—A Parallel.—The radical Unionists in the Western States are enjoying a parallel run by some wit on the prairies between our Johnson "Moses" and the Moses of Scripture, to the effect that Moses led his people through the sea; Johnson led his into it.

Moses asked Pharaoh to let the people go; Johnson was asked by Congress to let the people go, but wouldn't.

Moses cast down and broke the tables of the law; so has Johnson.

Moses erected a serpent in the wilderness and the people lived; Johnson erected a serpent in New Orleans and the people died.

Moses slew an Egyptian; Johnson "slews" himself.

Moses had Aaron for a spokesman; Johnson has his spokesman. Aaron made and showed a calf; Johnson's man made and showed a menagerie.

Moses ate quails in the wilderness; Johnson entertained "quails" at the White House.

Moses sang a song of triumph; Johnson sings on the other side of his mouth.

Moses was angry with the people; so is Johnson.

In Moses' time there were plagues by reason of hanging on to slavery and maintaining the slave power; so there are in Johnson's.

Moses esteemed reproach greater than the riches of Egypt, for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward; Johnson esteems his "policy" far above reproach, and had respect unto the recompense of the pardon brokers.

Moses was the meekest man, Johnson is the 'umblest individual.

Moses sent spies to spy out the land, and they brought back an evil report; so did Johnson, and they brought back increased radical majorities.

Moses didn't bring his people into the promised land; so didn't Johnson.

A Pheasant Racing with the Railway Trains.—The Dundee (Scotland) Advertiser is responsible for the following story:

"A few weeks ago the attention of enginemen and guards on the Great North of Scotland Railway was attracted to the conduct of a cock pheasant which seemed determined to vie in speed with the trains. This bird, which generally made its appearance from a wood near the Rothiemay station, came with all possible speed to the line on hearing a train. After waiting patiently till the engine was fairly alongside, the pheasant then started off and raced with great apparent determination till he was distanced by the locomotive, which generally occurred within four hundred yards. As day after day passed in this way, the bird began to be looked for at every train, and seldom failed to enter the lists. He also seemed to get better acquainted with the trains, and commenced to avoid those with passengers, as being (it is supposed) too fast for his powers of speed, choosing rather to make his contest with the heavier goods. As may be supposed, the bird has made himself a favorite with the officials, who say that his rueful and disappointed looks, when he is fairly beaten and left behind, are of the most comical and amusing character."

More Gifts from Mr. Peabody.—George Peabody has again added to his long list of public benefactions. He has just given $120,000 to Yale College, vesting the trust in Professor James D. Dana, James Dixon, Robert C. Winthrop, Professor Benjamin Silliman, Professor George J. Brush, Professor O. C. Marsh and George H. Wetmore. $100,000 are to be immediately expended in the erection of a building to be used as a museum of natural history. The sum of $25,000 is to be invested until it amounts to $100,000, which is to be used in completing the museum years hence; $20,000 are to be devoted to the care of the museum and increase of the collections: three-sevenths of the amount being devoted to zoology, three-sevenths to geology and one-seventh to mineralogy. No more than four members of the Board shall ever be members of the College faculty. The Governor of Connecticut is to fill the next vacancy in the Board, and continue forever afterward member ex officio.

The Peabody Institute in Baltimore was dedicated October 26th and Mr. Peabody has written a letter to the trustees announcing a further gift of $500,000 to that institution. The endowment of the Institute is therefore $1,000,000.

Rump President.—I know it is usual to regard this as a radical, rump Congress, and they endeavor to sap your Government by casting reproaches upon Congress. What has Congress done? It was elected by the same States that elected the President; if it is a rump Congress, he is rump President; if it is a rump Congress on the edge of the circle, he is a rump President on the dagger of Booth.—Hon. John Sherman.

A dispatch from Mobile says that on the 2d of September, on the Florida coast, fifteen miles from land, an island was thrown up by volcanic influence to the hight of 90 feet above the water level, and measuring 1,000 feet in circumference.

Embarrassment.—A gentleman meeting one of his friends who was insolvent, expressed great concern for his embarrassment. "You are mistaken, my dear sir," was the reply; "'tis not I, tis my creditors who are embarrassed."

To Soldiers Claiming Bounties
UNDER THE
EQUALIZATION BOUNTY BILL!

THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING RECENTLY RETURNED from Washington City, where he has made the proper arrangements for the collection of the Extra Bounty of $100 allowed to all soldiers enlisted after the 19th day of April, 1861, for a period of not less than three years, and $50 for soldiers enlisted for a period of not less than two years.

Persons entitled to the benefits of said Bounty will find it to their interest to attend to its collection at once. Having an Agent at Washington, and personal knowledge of the mode of making collections through the Departments, I can get returns promptly.

Call with your Discharge, and two witnesses for identification, at the Publication Office of the Daily Oregonian, No. 5 Washington St., Portland.
A. BUSHWILER, Claim Agent.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES, UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES, APPROVED JULY 28, 1866.

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, September 16, 1866.

1. All applications shall be filed within the period of six months, from the 1st day of October, 1866, and before any payments are made, shall be classified by regiments, battalions, or other separate organizations, and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid.

2. No application shall be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fourteenth section of the Act, and the further affidavit that he has not received, nor is he entitled to receive from the United States, under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28, 1866, more than $100 bounty for any and all military service rendered by him during the late rebellion, over and above the amount therein claimed.

3. All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from surviving soldiers shall be in the form hereinafter prescribed, and the evidence of identity shall be the same as it now required, and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department.

4. As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment, or other independent organization, shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt payment.

5. A register shall be kept in the Paymaster General's office, and also in the office of the Second Auditor, of all claims presented under the law, in which the claimants will be classified by regiments, etc. If the claims be allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated.

6. In the applications for bounty, as required by the third of these rules, the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant, and also that he never served otherwise than as herein stated.

7. Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States, or called out for special purposes, as State Militia, Home Guards, etc., and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of the Act.

8. Soldiers enlisted for "three years or during the war," who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war, shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act.

9. The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage. Parents shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family, in which case it shall be paid to the mother. Non-residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs, who would otherwise legally inherit.

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes:

1. Those who, after serving the full period of their enlistment, were dishonorably discharged at its expiration.

2. Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3. Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service, but not occasioned by wounds received "in the line of duty," who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge.

4. Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment.

5. The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty.

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who, under previous laws, have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States.

7. The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers, when such soldiers have bartered, sold, assigned, loaned, transferred, exchanged or given away their final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress.

8. The Act of the 28th of July, 1866, creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which these heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty, and debars certain classes, brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty, from any claim for the additional bounty provided by this Act.

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law.
EDWIN M. STANTON,
September 14, 1866. Secretary of War.

I have examined these amended regulations, and am of opinion they are in conformity with law.

SOMETHING NEW!
THE NEW LIGHT!
DANFORD'S
Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIVERSAL necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney, and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of expense, trouble and annoyance, the chimney, is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided; it is the most perfect lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, yielding the light of an ordinary six to the butter for less than ½ cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper-light, ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Dufrene, corner of Morrison and First streets.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,
616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing, and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation the sufferer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing themselves in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent Physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief is not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails in effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give each patient a written instrument, binding himself to obtain a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating the symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and having medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, enclosed in a letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
